

About CPIA

CPIA (Colorado Photonics Industry Association) is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to enhancing work in photonics, the energy of light, in Colorado. By uniting industrial, academic, and governmental entities, CPIA encourages cooperation, collaboration, and partnering. Founded in 1997, CPIA now includes over 60 members. The entire photonics industry in Colorado includes over 250 companies, four national laboratories, and eight research institutions.

The last three Nobel prize winners in Colorado have won for photonics related research.
